

INDEX

- with more than 3000 entries

The register also includes Protocols and Declarations not included here in the printed version of the Reader-Friendly EU Constitution. Find them at www.EUABC.com – here you can search for all words and find simple explanations on the meaning in an Internet dictionary with over 1200 words.

Using the Index:

- the Roman numerals indicate the part of the constitution the article is in
- the first number after the hyphen indicates the article number
- the number after the dot indicates the paragraph number
- subsequent paragraphs are connected by a hyphen
- non-neighbouring paragraphs are divided by a comma
- individual references are divided by a semicolon

Example: I-3.1, 3-5; means the first, third, fourth and fifth paragraph of section 1 of Article 3 in Part I
